GEORGE M. STEINBRENNER III PRINCIPAL OWNER

George Steinbrenner celebrates his 32nd Anniversary as Principal Owner of the New York Yankees in 2005 and—with the sale of the Milwaukee Brewers in January—is now the longest tenured owner in Major League Baseball.

On January 3, 1973, a group formed by Mr. Steinbrenner purchased the Yankees from CBS for a net of $8.7-million. It took just five years for his aggressive leadership to turn the Yankees into World Champions once again. And, in the 32 years in which he has owned the club (1973-2004), the Yankees have posted the highest winning percentage in the Major Leagues at .561 (2,830-2,219) with 10 American League pennants and six World Championships (also the most in the Majors).

In addition to the team's on-field success, the Yankees have consistently shattered franchise- and league attendance records both at home and on the road. The Yankees became the first New York team ever to top the three million mark in home attendance six times when they drew a franchise-record 3,775,292 in 2004. They also became the first American-League team to top the three-million mark in road attendance in 2004 when they drew 3,308,666. In the history of professional sports, the Yankees' combined home-road attendance of 7,083,958 in 2004 is second only to the 1993 Colorado Rockies' combined total of 7,178,421.

With 32 seasons of ownership now completed, Mr. Steinbrenner's stewardship has exceeded any other Yankee owner by eight years. (Colonel Jacob Ruppert purchased the Yankees with Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston on January 11, 1915, bought out his partner on May 21, 1922 and owned the club for 24 years until his death on January 13, 1939.) In the 32 years in which Mr. Steinbrenner has owned the Yankees, the other 29 clubs have had 96 owners or ownership groups while the Yankees have had just one.

Mr. Steinbrenner's success in the sports world began at an early age. He was a multi-sport athlete at Culver Military Academy, where he is in the Athletic Hall of Fame, and at Williams College. He began his coaching career as an assistant football coach at two Big Ten schools, Northwestern and Purdue, and followed that by assembling championship basketball teams in both the National Industrial and American Basketball Leagues. In 2002, he was honored with the prestigious Gold Medal Award from the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame for a lifetime of "outstanding commitment, dedication and dynamic leadership in both his business and personal lives." It is the highest and most prestigious award bestowed by the College Football Foundation.

Mr. Steinbrenner has probably devoted as much time and effort to the U.S. Olympic Committee as he has to his many other sporting endeavors. He has served on the NCAA Foundation Board of Trustees since 1990, was Chairman of the U.S.O.C. Foundation (1997-2002) as well as the Olympic Overview Commission (1988-89), which was created to evaluate the structure and efforts of the United States Olympic program. He also served as Vice President of the U.S. Olympic Committee (1989-96) and has been honored with both the General Douglas MacArthur USOC Foremost Award and the F. Don Miller United States Olympic Award.

In 1997, Mr. Steinbrenner was honored as "Outstanding New Yorker" and was named Tampa's "Citizen-of-the-Year" in 1998. He was also named the Number One "Most Powerful Man in Sports" for 2002 by The Sporting News.

Mr. Steinbrenner currently serves as a trustee for the NCAA Foundation and is also a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame's Board of Directors.

The Yankees recorded their seventh consecutive first-place finish in 2004 and the 43rd in team history, the most of any professional sports franchise...the Yankees are followed by the Montreal Canadiens (32), Minneapolis/Los Angeles Lakers (27), Boston Celtics (24), Brooklyn/Los Angeles Dodgers (25), Boston/Milwaukee/Atlanta Braves (25), New York/San Francisco Giants (22) and the Philadelphia/Oakland A's (21)...the Yankees' first-place total includes the strike-shortened 1981 season when they won the first-half American League East title.

BRIAN CASHMAN SENIOR V.P. AND GENERAL MANAGER

Brian McGuire Cashman has literally grown up with the Yankees, moving from the baseball equivalents of the "mail room" to the "board room" over the past 20 seasons.

Mr. Cashman joined the Yankees—at age 19—in June, 1986 as an Intern in the club's Minor League and Scouting Department. On February 3, 1998, Principal Owner George M. Steinbrenner gave him the opportunity—at age 31—to become the second-youngest General Manager in Baseball history. Now in his eighth season, Mr. Cashman is the longest-tenured GM under Mr. Steinbrenner.

In a franchise marked by milestones, Mr. Cashman has had his share. In his first season (1998), he became the youngest GM to win a World Series and went on to become the only GM in Baseball history to win World Championships in each of his first three seasons (1998-2000). Mr. Cashman is also only the third GM in Baseball history to win at least four consecutive League Championships and was the first to do it in his first four seasons (1998-2001). Only former Yankee General Managers Ed Barrow (four straight, 1936-39) and George Weiss (five straight, 1949-53) have also achieved the feat.

Mr. Cashman is the only General Manager in Major League history to guide a team to division- or league title in each of his first seven seasons from 1998-2004. During that span, the Yankees have compiled a cumulative record of 699-431—the best winning percentage (.619) in the Major Leagues during that period—and have established franchise attendance records in 1998, 1999, 2002, 2003 and 2004. The Yankees are the only New York franchise ever to top the three-million mark six times (1999-2004) and, in 2004, became only the second Major League franchise to top the seven-million mark in combined single-season home and road attendance (7,083,958).

As General Manager of the Yankees, Mr. Cashman has been involved in 74 Major League free-agent signings and 57 trades involving 156 players. Notable among his signings are Jason Giambi, Orlando Hernandez, Jon Lieber, Hideki Matsui, Mike Mussina, Alfonso Soriano and Carl Pavano. Among the most strategically important trades have been Aaron Boone, Roger Clemens, David Justice, Chuck Knoblauch and Alex Rodriguez.

There have been three women in Major League history to hold the position of Assistant General Manager and Mr. Cashman has hired two of them: Jean Afterman, the Yankees' current Vice President and Assistant General Manager; and Kim Ng, who is currently Vice President and Assistant General Manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Various groups have honored the achievements of the Yankees and Mr. Cashman. He has been honored as "Executive of the Year" three times: by the Boston Chapter of the BBWAA in 2000; and in 1999 and 2003 by the New Jersey Sportswriters' Association. The Yankees earned ESPY awards—presented by ESPN—as "Outstanding Team of the Year" in both 1998 and 2000 and they have also been named "Organization of the Year" by Baseball America in 1998 and by USA Today in 1999. In 2001, Mr. Cashman received his third consecutive "40 Under 40" Award presented by The Sports Business Journal to recognize the top 40 people under the age of 40 who have made the greatest impact in the sports business industry. It was his final year of eligibility for the award and he has since been inducted into the publication's "40 Under 40" Hall of Fame. In 2003, Mr. Cashman was honored by the Latino Sports Writers and Broadcasters with their annual "Latino Achievement Award" for his contributions to Latino media.

On February 11, 2004, Mr. Cashman was given the honor of ringing the opening bell at the New York Stock Exchange. (The market closed at 10,737.70 on that day, its highest close since June 13, 2001.)

He was heavily involved in bringing the Yankees to Tokyo for "Opening Series 2004" to honor the 70th Anniversary of Major League Baseball's historic tour of Japan (which included Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig).

Upon graduation from Catholic University in Washington, D.C. in June 1989, Mr. Cashman became a full-time Assistant in Baseball Operations for the Yankees. He was later promoted and transferred to Tampa, Florida, where he served as the Assistant Farm Director from 1990 to 1992. He returned to New York and became Assistant General Manager, Baseball Administration in November 1992.

Born on July 3, 1967 in Rockville Center, NY, Mr. Cashman grew up in Lexington, KY. He attended Georgetown Prep in Rockville, MD, before attending Catholic University in Washington, D.C. to major in history and play intercollegiate baseball. His love for baseball developed when long-time family friends (former Brooklyn Dodger) Ralph and Ann Branca arranged for him to serve as bat boy for the Los Angeles Dodgers in spring training in 1982.

He and his wife, Mary, have a daughter, Grace Eva, and a son, Theodore John.

MARK NEWMAN SENIOR V.P., BASEBALL OPERATIONS

Mark Newman begins his sixth season as the Yankees' Senior Vice President of Baseball Operations and his 17th season with the Yankees. Prior to being named to his current position in 2000, Mr. Newman served as the club's Vice President of Player Development and Scouting from 1997 through 1999.

During his tenure, the Yankees' Player Development System has been recognized for producing "home-grown" talent including All-Stars Derek Jeter, Andy Pettitte, Jorge Posada, Mariano Rivera, Alfonso Soriano and Bernie Williams. The Yankees were selected the 1998 "Organization of the Year" by Baseball America and the 1999 "Organization of the Year" by USA Today, designations which go to the organization with the most prospects. In addition to appearing in post-season play for 10 consecutive seasons (1995-2004), the Yankees are one of only two teams whose minor-league affiliates have posted winning records in each of the last 15 seasons since 1990 (also Cleveland Indians).

Mr. Newman began his career in the Yankee organization in 1989 as Coordinator of Instruction and served in that position until his promotion to Director of Player Development and Scouting in 1996. He was named Vice President of Player Development and Scouting in 1997. In his first role with the club, he oversaw all managers and coaches in the farm system and planned both Major and Minor League spring training.

In 1972, Mr. Newman began a baseball coaching career at 22 years old as pitching coach for Southern Illinois University in Carbondale, IL. After spending nine successful seasons there—during which he earned his law degree with honors—he was named Head Baseball Coach at Old Dominion University in 1981. Mr. Newman's impressive 321-167-3 record in nine seasons (1981-88) was recognized with his induction into the ODU Hall of Fame in 1997. He was inducted into the SIU Hall of Fame in 2000.

JEAN AFTERMAN V.P., ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Jean Afterman begins her fourth season as the Yankees' Assistant General Manager (third as Vice President) in 2005 and is only the third female to hold such a position in Major League Baseball and the second with the Yankees. In 2001, she succeeded Kim Ng, who was Baseball's second female Assistant General Manager from 1998 through 2001.

In her first year with the Yankees, Ms. Afterman was instrumental in developing the club's relationship with the Yomiuri Giants of the Japan Central League and the signing of three-time Central-League Most Valuable Player Hideki Matsui.

She was named one of the "Power 100" by The Sporting News in 2004 and was also selected as one of the "50 Most Powerful Women in Sports" by the New York Post in 2003.

Ms. Afterman joined the Yankees with a diverse business and legal background, including corporate-, labor- and immigration law as well as international sports and licensing with an emphasis on US-Japan issues. She has traveled and lectured in Japan on business issues and, in 1996, Ms. Afterman was appointed by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture to a federal advisory committee, the National Organic Standards Board. Prior to joining the Yankees, Ms. Afterman managed her own practice, providing athletic representation and management with a specialization in arbitration proceedings.

From 1994 to 1999, she was General Counsel at KDN Sports, Inc. and handled business and legal affairs for international baseball clients which included Hideo Nomo, Hideki Irabu, Masato Yoshii, Alfonso Soriano and more than 30 other Major- and Minor-League players.

Ms. Afterman graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1979 and was the recipient of the Rosalynn Schneider Eisner and the Mark Goodson Scholarship Grant. She received her J. D. from the University of San Francisco School of Law in 1991.

TRIPLE PLAYS

Entering the 2005 season, the Yankees have gone 5,808 regular-season games without turning a triple play...the Yankees have turned 21 triple plays in their history, the last one coming on 6/3/68 vs. Minnesota (Womack-Cox-Mantle)...the last triple play turned by an opponent came on 5/29/00 vs. Oakland when, with Tino Martinez on first and Jorge Posada on second, Shane Spencer lined out to second baseman Randy Velarde for the first out, he then tagged Martinez who was running on the pitch and then stepped on second base to force out Posada. It was the 11th unassisted triple play in Major-League history and the first against the Yankees.

RECAP: Similar to the 2003 post-season opener, the Yankees dropped Game One of the 2004 Division Series to the Minnesota Twins at Yankee Stadium in a low-scoring 2-0 defeat. The loss was the Yankees' fourth straight in a post-season series' Game One. The Yankees recorded nine hits against Johan Santana, the 2004 AL Cy Young Award winner, but the Twins turned five double plays, setting a new postseason record. Mike Mussina turned in a solid, seven-inning performance, but the Yankees' bats could not produce a run, going 0-for-6 with runners in scoring position. Including last year's shutout in Game 6 of the World Series, the Yankees have now gone scoreless in 18 consecutive postseason innings.

RECAP: The Yankees scored twice in the bottom of the 12th inning to overcome a 6-5 deficit and take a dramatic, 7-6 win in Game Two of the American League Division Series. Derek Jeter scored the game-winning run on a shallow sacrifice fly by Hideki Matsui, completing the comeback. Alex Rodriguez, who went 4-for-6 with a home run and three RBI, hit a game-tying RBI double off Joe Nathan, to set the stage for the victory. In his first career post-season start, Jon Lieber allowed three runs over 6.2 innings. Unfortunately, Mariano Rivera couldn't close out the win and recorded his third blown save in 33 career postseason opportunities. The previous two were Game 4 of the 1997 ALDS in Cleveland and Game 7 of the 2001 World Series in Arizona.

RECAP: As was the case during the regular season, the Yankees utilized some late-inning dramatics to capture their third Division Series title in four years with an exciting, 11-inning come-from-behind victory. The win sent the Yankees to their seventh ALCS since Joe Torre took over as Manager in 1996. Ruben Sierra made the victory possible with a three-run home run in the eighth, capping a four-run inning that tied the game at 5. In the 11th inning, Alex Rodriguez stole third base, then scored on a wild pitch to give the Yankees a 6-5 lead. Mariano Rivera closed out the game for the win, finishing off the Twins and setting up what promised to be another historic week against the Boston Red Sox.

RECAP: In a rematch of the 2003 American League Championship Series, the Yankees took on the Boston Red Sox in what would prove to be another unforgettable series. The Yankees opened Game One with an early 8-0 lead, but the Red Sox would not go down easy. Mike Mussina retired the first 19 Red Sox hitters before Mark Bellhorn broke up the perfect game bid with a double in the seventh inning. The Yankee bullpen then allowed seven runs in what appeared to be a Boston comeback, but in the end, the game came down to the dependable Mariano Rivera, who arrived at the game late after attending a funeral in Panama. Rivera recorded his first save of the 2004 postseason and extended his own record to 31 career postseason saves. Hideki Matsui tied an ALCS record with five RBI in the victory.

RECAP: For the second straight night, Mariano Rivera recorded the last four outs of the game, as the Yankees took a commanding 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series. Since 1985, the last 13 teams to win the first two games of an LCS have gone on to win the series. In just the second post-season start of his career, Jon Lieber dominated the Red Sox, allowing three hits in seven-plus innings of one-run ball. Gary Sheffield and John Olerud each homered in the Yankees' victory.

RECAP: In a memorable Game Three of the 2004 American League Championship Series, the Yankees established several LCS game records while taking a 3-0 lead in the series by defeating the Red Sox, 19-8 at Fenway Park. The Yankees set records with the most runs scored (19) and extra-base hits (13), and tied the marks for most hits (22), doubles (8) and home runs (4). The game was the longest nine-inning contest in postseason history, clocking in at 4:20. The top five batters in the Yankees' lineup—Derek Jeter, Alex Rodriguez, Gary Sheffield, Hideki Matsui and Bernie Williams—combined to go 17-for-26 (.654) with four walks (a .700 on-base percentage). The five players accounted for nine extra-base hits, including four home runs (two by Matsui), driving in 15 runs and scoring 16. Matsui went 5-for-6 with two homers, two doubles, five RBIs and five runs, becoming just the second player to record five hits in a LCS game. Javier Vazquez pitched 4.1 innings of relief to earn his first career postseason victory in just the second relief appearance of his career.

And for the second time in two days, it was David Ortiz who came through in the clutch for the Red Sox. Ortiz's RBI single off Esteban Loaiza in the 14th inning gave the Red Sox their second comeback win in a game that lasted a record five hours and 49 minutes, setting a new postseason mark. Mariano Rivera tossed two scoreless innings, but blew his second save opportunity in as many nights. Bernie Williams appeared in his 113th career postseason game, passing David Justice for most games played in the postseason.

RECAP: Despite having a three-games to none lead over the Boston Red Sox in the 2004 ALCS, the Yankees were denied a 40th American League pennant as Boston surmounted all odds to win the seventh and final game of the series. The Red Sox became the first team in baseball history to overcome a 3-0 deficit and win a best-of-seven postseason series. The Red Sox became the third team in professional sports history to accomplish the feat, joining the 1942 Toronto Maple Leafs and 1975 New York Islanders of the NHL. Johnny Damon hit two home runs, including a game-breaking grand slam in the second, as the Red Sox exploded for eight runs in the first four innings to knock the Yankees out of contention. The loss snapped the Yankees' streak of seven straight LCS victories, and is only the second series defeat for the Yankees in 12 LCS appearances. Following the victory, Red Sox' DH David Ortiz was named the series' Most Valuable Player.

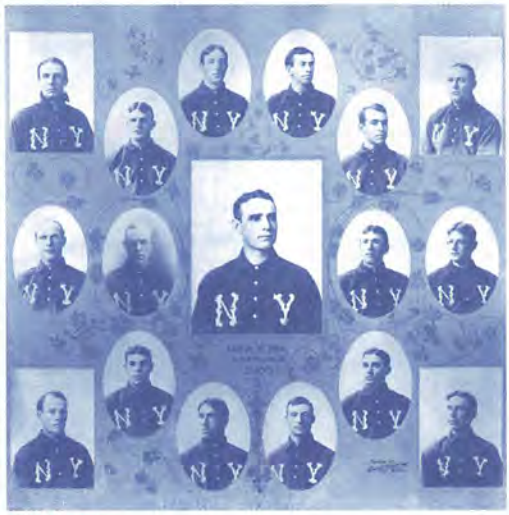
HISTORY & RECORDS

HISTORY OF THE NEW YORK YANKEES

What would become the most successful team in sports history actually began as the Baltimore Orioles in 1901. When that franchise folded after only two seasons, it was purchased for $18,000 by two colorful New Yorkers, Frank Farrell and Bill Devery.

New York's third Major-League team, joining the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League, would play its home games in a hastily constructed, all-wood park at 168th Street and Broadway. Because the site was one of the highest spots in Manhattan, the team was named the "Highlanders" and their home field "Hilltop Park." They played their inaugural game on April 22, 1903, losing 3-1 to the Senators at Washington. New York recorded the first win in franchise history the next day, a 7-2 decision at Washington.



1903 Highlanders

The Highlanders nearly captured the American-League pennant in 1904—only their second season—as they finished only 1.5 games behind the Boston Pilgrims in the first of three second-place finishes from 1904 to 1910.

After a spectacular fire severely damaged the Polo Grounds in 1911, the Highlanders' owners invited the Giants to share Hilltop Park. Two years later the Giants returned the favor and allowed the Highlanders to move into their rebuilt and vastly superior park. With the move, the Highlanders officially changed their nickname to "Yankees" (by which they had actually been known for most of their history). Two years after the move—on January 11, 1915—Colonel Jacob Ruppert and Colonel Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston purchased the franchise from its by-now disgruntled owners.

From 1911 to 1919, the Yankees won as many as 80 games in a season only twice, but the franchise's fortunes would change forever on January 3, 1920. On what is perhaps the most significant date in club history, the Yankees purchased the contract of George Herman "Babe" Ruth from the Boston Red Sox for $125,000 and a $350,000 loan against the mortgage on Fenway Park.

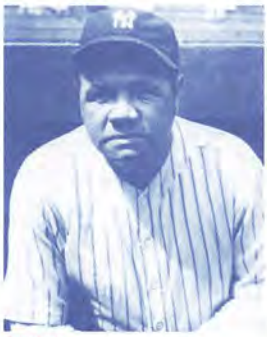
Ruth's impact was immediate. The Yankees won 95 games in 1920, their highest victory total to date, and captured their first American-League pennant a year later. Their attendance at the Polo Grounds doubled to 1,289,422 in 1920 and, in 1921, the Giants notified their tenant to vacate the Polo Grounds as soon as possible. Now bitter rivals, the two teams squared off in the World Series in 1921 and 1922 with the Giants winning both times.

With their departure from the Polo Grounds inevitable, the Yankee owners set out to build a spectacular ballpark of their own. Baseball's first triple-decked structure with an advertised capacity of 70,000, it would also be the first baseball facility to be labeled a "stadium."

Construction began on May 5, 1922 and, in only 284 working days, Yankee Stadium was ready for its inaugural game on April 18, 1923 vs. the Boston Red Sox. An announced crowd of 74,200 fans packed Yankee Stadium for a glimpse of Baseball's grandest facility while thousands milled around outside after the fire department finally ordered the gates closed. Appropriately, Ruth christened his new home with a three-run homer to cap a four-run third inning as the Yankees coasted to a 4-1 win.

Because it was widely recognized that Ruth's tremendous drawing power made the new stadium possible, it would immediately become known as "The House That Ruth Built." Later that season, the Stadium hosted the first of 37 World Series and Yankees won their first World Championship over their former landlord, the Giants. Of course, as the Stadium became the stage for a staggering number of World titles—now totaling 26—it would also become known as "The Home of Champions."

On June 1, 1925 in a 5-3 loss vs. Washington, Manager Miller Huggins inserted a 21-year-old rookie first baseman as a pinch hitter for light-hitting shortstop Pee Wee Wanninger. No one could have imagined at the time that this appearance would be the first of 2,130 consecutive games played by Lou Gehrig, who, with Babe Ruth and later Joe DiMaggio, anchored some of the greatest ball clubs of all time.



Babe Ruth

After a disheartening loss to the St. Louis Cardinals in the 1926 World Series, the Yankees rolled to World Championships in both 1927 and 1928, sweeping the Series both years. The 1927 club, the first Yankee team to be labeled "Murderers' Row," became the yardstick by which athletic greatness is measured. During that season, Ruth shattered his own single-season home run record with his 60th on September 30,1927.

In his 15 seasons in pinstripes, Ruth helped build a tradition of winning with seven American-League pennants and four World Championships. He finished his unparalleled career (with the Boston Braves in 1935) with 714 home runs, 12 American-League home-run titles and six RBI crowns, including five seasons with more than 150. A charter member of Baseball's Hall of Fame, he remains widely regarded as the greatest player of all-time.

After the 1934 season, Ruth's last in New York, the Yankees purchased the contract of a budding star named Joseph Paul DiMaggio from the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League. Two years later, DiMaggio made his debut in pinstripes and helped the Yankees to an incredible string of four consecutive World Championships under Manager Joe McCarthy from 1936 through 1939. The decade of the thirties also produced one of the game's greatest lefty-righty pitching combinations in future Hall of Famers Lefty Gomez and Red Ruffing. A four-time 20-game winner—including 24-7 in 1932 and 26-5 in 1934—Gomez was also 6-0 in five World Series. Ruffing posted seasons of 20, 20, 21 and 21 wins on four World-Championship clubs from 1936-39.

Lou Gehrig delivers his moving farewell address on July 4, 1939.

Sadly, in 1939, Gehrig was diagnosed with a crippling disease and his streak of 2,130 games came to an end on May 2 when he did not appear in a 22-2 Yankees' win at Detroit. On July 4, the Yankees honored their captain with an emotional "Lou Gehrig Appreciation Day" at Yankee Stadium and his uniform number (4) became the first in Baseball to be retired. He died on June 2, 1941.

With the departure of Gehrig, DiMaggio became the pillar of the next generation of Yankee champions. In his 13 seasons in pinstripes, the Yankees played in the World Series in all but two years and won 10 World-Series titles. The legendary "Yankee Clipper" compiled one of the game's most remarkable—and perhaps unbreakable—records in 1941 when he hit safely in a record 56 consecutive games.

Joe DiMaggio

The Yankees also made a seamless transition after DiMaggio's retirement at the age of 37 after the 1951 season. With Whitey Ford and Mickey Mantle joining future Hall of Famers Yogi Berra and Phil Rizzuto, the Yankees won eight American-League pennants and six World Championships under Manager Casey Stengel during the 1950's. Their streak of five consecutive World-Series titles from 1949 through 1953 remains a Major-League record with no other team winning as many as four straight.

Mantle would achieve greatness despite an arrested case of osteo-myelitis and numerous injuries. The powerful switch-hitter belted 536 home runs, collected 2,415 hits and batted .300 or more 10 times in an 18-year career. In his first 14 seasons in pinstripes, the Yankees missed the World Series only twice (in 1954 and 1959).

Ford's lifetime record of 236-106 gives him the best winning percentage (.690) of any 20th century pitcher and he paced the American League in victories three times and in ERA and shutouts twice. He still holds many World Series records, including 10 wins, 33 consecutive scoreless innings and 94 strikeouts.

Mickey Mantle

The heart of the Yankees for 18 seasons, Berra played on an incredible 14 pennant winners and 10 World Champions. He was a three-time MVP and was selected to the All-Star team in every season from 1948 through 1962.

Rizzuto was recognized as the glue of 10 pennant winners and eight World-Series Champions from 1941-56 and captured the league's MVP award in 1950, batting .324 with 200 hits and 125 runs scored.

And not every contributor to Yankee and Baseball history was a future Hall of Famer. In Game Five of the 1956 World Series vs. the Brooklyn Dodgers on October 8th at Yankee Stadium, right-hander Don Larsen authored what is perhaps the game's greatest pitching performance when he retired all 27 Dodger batters for the only perfect game in World-Series history.

Don Larsen and Yogi Berra celebrate the only World-Series perfect game.

The Yankees opened the decade of the sixties in their usual fashion, winning pennants in the first five seasons (1960-'64) and World-Series titles in 1961 and 1962. Incredibly, in the 29 seasons from 1936 to 1964, the Yankees won a remarkable 22 pennants and 16 World Championships. The 1961 club is still regarded as one of the best teams in Baseball history. With Mantle and Roger Maris embroiled in a season-long race to break Ruth's single-season home-run record, the Yankees rolled to 109 wins en route to the World Championship. Maris smashed Ruth's record when he belted his 61st home run on October 1 at Yankee Stadium in the last game of the season.

Roger Maris hits number 61.

But age finally caught up with the ball club after a seven-game Series loss to the St. Louis Cardinals in 1964. The Yankees would finish first in the division only once in the next nine seasons and actually plummeted to last place in 1966 for the first time in 53 years.

The team's fall from grace ended on January 2, 1973, when the most storied franchise in sports history was sold by CBS to a group headed by George M. Steinbrenner III. With the addition of Catfish Hunter—Baseball's first marquee free agent—shrewd trades which brought Ed Figueroa, Mickey Rivers, Chris Chambliss and Willie Randolph and a strong nucleus which included Thurman Munson, Graig Nettles, Roy White and Sparky Lyle, the Yankees would make their first post-season appearance in 12 years in 1976 by winning their first American-League-East title. Then on October 14, 1976, in the deciding fifth game of the League Championship Series vs. the Kansas City Royals, Chambliss launched a ninth-inning, pennant-winning home run to put the Yankees back in the World Series.

Chris Chambliss hits the pennant winner in the 1976 ALCS.

After a disheartening four-game sweep vs. the Cincinnati Reds in the 1976 World Series, the Yankees introduced Reggie Jackson—the most prolific slugger of his era—as the club's newest free-agent acquisition. Jackson then capped an exciting 1977 season with one of Baseball's greatest individual performances. In Game Six of the World Series vs. the Los Angeles Dodgers at Yankee Stadium on October 18, "Mr. October" belted three home runs on three swings of the bat.

In 1978, the Yankees overcame a 14.0-game deficit in the American League East to force a one-game playoff with the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park to decide the American-League pennant. Shortstop Bucky Dent erased a 2-0 Red Sox' lead in the seventh inning with a dramatic three-run homer and the Yankees went on to a 5-4 win en route to a second straight World Championship.

The '78 season also saw the emergence of Ron Guidry as one the franchise's greatest pitchers. A four-time American-League All-Star, Guidry compiled one of the most dominating seasons in baseball history in 1978 and became known as "Louisiana Lightning." He went 25-3 with a 1.74 earned run average in leading the Yankees to their dramatic comeback, compiling a club-record 248 strikeouts and nine shutouts en route to a unanimous selection as the A.L.'s Cy-Young-Award recipient. On June 17, 1978 vs. the California Angels at Yankee Stadium, Guidry shattered the club record for strikeouts with 18. The Yankees' co-captain—with Willie Randolph—from 1986 through 1988, Guidry also won 20 games in 1983 (21-9) and 1985 (22-6).

The seventies ended with tragedy as Thurman Munson, the Yankees' first captain since Gehrig, was killed in the crash of his private jet on August 2, 1979. Only 32 at the time of his death, Munson was the undisputed leader of the clubs that won three consecutive pennants and two World Championships. After their Captain's death, the Yankees would make only one more World-Series appearance (1981) in 17 years despite compiling the best record in the Major Leagues during the decade of the eighties.

Thurman Munson

The eighties also saw the development of one of the franchise's greatest and most popular players, Don Mattingly. "Donnie Baseball," the team captain from 1991 through 1995, batted .307 in his Yankee career (1982-95) and compiled an incredible six-year stretch from 1984-89. During those years, he batted .327 and topped 100 RBI five times, including a career-high 145 in 1985 when he captured the A.L. MVP award. A year earlier, he outdueled teammate Dave Winfield on the final day of the season for the league's batting crown (.343 to .340).

Winfield, who came to the Yankees as the game's most-sought-after free agent in 1981, compiled Hall-of-Fame credentials in his eight-plus seasons in pinstripes (1981-90). He belted 205 home runs for the Yankees with 818 RBI and won five gold gloves.

After an absence of 13 years, the Yankees returned to post-season play in 1995 as the American League's first-ever "Wild-Card" entry. A devastating five-game loss to the Seattle Mariners in the Division Series was only the start of an incredible run of eight consecutive post-season appearances, a record shared only by the Atlanta Braves.

Don Mattingly

In 1996, under new skipper Joe Torre, the Yankees returned to the World Series and would win four of the next five World Championships, including three straight from 1998 through 2000. Their 114 victories in 1998 shattered the 44-year-old American-League mark of 111 wins by the 1954 Cleveland Indians (was broken by Seattle in 2001) and their 125 total victories (with 11 post-season wins) remains Baseball's best single-season total.

Ron Guidry

The Yankees' most-recent era of greatness featured a consistent lineup of great home-grown and acquired players to rival any period in franchise history. Since the arrival of Bernie Williams in 1991, the Yankees' farm system has produced All-Stars Derek Jeter, Andy Pettitte, Jorge Posada, Mariano Rivera and Alfonso Soriano. In addition, shrewd trades and free-agent acquisitions have brought such All-Stars as Wade Boggs, Scott Brosius, Roger Clemens, David Cone, Jason Giambi, Tino Martinez, Mike Mussina, Paul O'Neill, Mike Stanton and David Wells.

In 2001, the Yankees failed to become only the second team in history to win four consecutive World-Series titles, but captured the hearts of the nation in the aftermath of the September 11th attacks. The Yankees dropped the first two games of the Series vs. the Arizona Diamondbacks at Bank One Ballpark, but rallied to win the next three at Yankee Stadium behind dramatic ninth-inning comebacks in both Games Four and Five. On consecutive nights, Tino Martinez and Scott Brosius erased two-run, ninth-inning Diamondback leads with the Yankees winning both games in extra innings. It marked the first time in World-Series history that a team won two games in the same series when trailing by at least two runs in the ninth inning.

Mariano Rivera celebrates the Yankees' four-game sweep in the 1998 World Series.

Entering their 103rd season in 2005, the Yankees seek to extend their franchise record of consecutive post-season appearances to 11 (a record matched only by the Atlanta Braves, 1995-04). They will do so by expanding upon the kind of innovation that set their first century—and its 26 World Championships—in motion. More than 100 years ago, the original 1903 team was built with stars from no fewer than eight different Major League teams. The 2005 Yankees will be comprised of stars from no fewer than six nations. ■

YANKEE PITCHERS AS BATTERS: From 1973 to 1996, only five Yankee pitchers came to bat in regular-season play: Lindy McDaniel was 0-2 in 1973, Sparky Lyle was 0-1 in 1974, Catfish Hunter was 0-1 in 1976, Ron Davis was 0-2 in 1979-80 and Rick Rhoden was 0-1 in 1988...Rhoden, the last Yankee pitcher to bat before interleague play began in 1997, started as the designated hitter on 6/11/88 vs. Baltimore and batted seventh in the lineup...he hit a sacrifice fly to right field in the third inning off Jeff Ballard, scoring Jay Buhner...Rhoden's appearance was the first instance since the inception of the DH that a pitcher started and played a game as the DH...other "lasts" by Yankee pitchers at the plate:
LAST MULTI-HIT GAME: Mike Mussina, 6/23/02 at San Diego (2-for-3, 1R)
LAST HOME RUN: Lindy McDaniel, 9/28/72, at Detroit (off Mickey Lolich)

* Lefthanded pitcher + Perfect Game

On July 18, 1999, David Cone tossed only the 13th perfect game in modern (since 1900) Major-League history. It came only one season after David Wells accomplished the feat and gave the Yankees a record three perfect games in their history, including Don Larsen in the 1956 World Series. Prior to Wells' and Cone's, perfect games had only been pitched in consecutive seasons once (by Jim Bunning of the Phillies in 1964 and the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax in 1965) and never by pitchers from the same team. Yankee Stadium also became the only park to host as many as three perfect games (Dodger Stadium was the site of perfect games by Koufax in 1965 and Montreal's Dennis Martinez in 1991).

ONE-HIT GAMES

Yankee pitchers have thrown 58 one-hitters, the most recent by Ted Lilly on 4/27/02 at Seattle (Lilly became the first Yankee pitcher ever to lose a one-hitter in the regular season)…the Yankees' last complete-game one-hit win was by Mike Mussina on 9/2/01 vs. the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park in a 1-0 Yankees' victory…Mussina retired 26 consecutive batters before Carl Everett singled with two outs in the ninth…it was the first complete-game one-hitter by a Yankee since Jimmy Key on 4/27/93 at California in a 5-0 Yankee win…the Yankees last authored a combined one-hitter on 9/26/97 at Detroit, when four pitchers–Andy Pettitte, Brian Boehringer, Mariano Rivera and Jeff Nelson–limited the Tigers to a third-inning single by Travis Fryman.

Bob Turley and Whitey Ford each hurled three CG one-hitters for New York and both men participated in a fourth…Bob Shawkey, Rip Collins, Lefty Gomez, Vic Raschi and Floyd Bevens each threw two, with one of Bevens' coming in Game Four of the 1947 World Series vs. Brooklyn…Bevens was one out from a no-hitter when the pinch-hitter Cookie Lavagetto doubled in two runs to give the Dodgers a 3-2 victory…it was the last game Bevens and Lavagetto ever played in the Majors.

The Yankees were last held to one hit on 7/16/04 at Detroit (by RHP Mike Maroth)...Joe Wood, Earl Hamilton and Nolan Ryan are the only three men with a pair of one-hitters against the Yankees with both of Hamilton's coming in 1913…Hoyt Wilhelm, who no-hit the Yankees in 1958, also tossed a one-hitter against them in 1959.

Horace Clarke and Don Mattingly are the only Yankees to twice serve as no-hit spoilers…Clarke had the only hit in no-hit bids by Jim Palmer and Joe Niekro…in a single month in 1970, Clarke broke up three no-hitters in the 9th inning, two of which wound up being more than one-hitters…on 5/2/84 at Chicago, Mattingly ruined a perfect game for LaMarr Hoyt with a wind-blown single in the seventh inning, and on 6/29/85 vs. Milwaukee, he also broke up a no-hit bid by Moose Haas, again with a seventh-inning single…on 9/12/81 at Yankee Stadium, Boston LHP Bob Ojeda took a no-hitter into the ninth inning only to have Rick Cerone lead off with a double, followed by a Dave Winfield double.

YANKEES' GRAND SLAMS

The Yankees hit nine grand slams in 2004 for the second straight season, equaling the second-highest single-season total in franchise history (also hit nine in 1998)...the Yankees hit a franchise-record 10 grand slams in 1987, tying the major-league mark (since exceeded by seven teams)...Don Mattingly hit a Major-League record six of the 10 grand slams in 1987...on 5/17/02 vs. the Minnesota Twins, Jason Giambi became only the 21st player in Major-League history—and the second Yankee—to hit a last-inning grand slam to take a team to sudden victory when trailing by three runs (Babe Ruth did it on 9/25/25, hitting a one-out grand slam off Chicago's Sarge Connally in the 10th inning of New York's 6-5 win)...on 9/14/99 at Toronto, Bernie Williams and Paul O'Neill hit grand slams in the seventh and eighth innings respectively, the only time in franchise history that players have hit grand slams in consecutive innings...it was also only the third time in franchise history that the Yankees had two grand slams in the same game (also Tony Lazzeri on 5/24/36 at Philadelphia; and Dave Winfield and Don Mattingly on 6/29/87 at Toronto)...in 1998, Shane Spencer led the club with three grand slams (most ever by a Yankee rookie)...he also became the first Yankee rookie to hit at least two slams in one season since Yogi Berra in 1947...Yankee pitchers did not allow a grand slam in 2004 for the first time since the strike-shortened 1981 season (last allowed no grand slams in a full season in 1976)...gave up nine grand slams in 2000, the most in franchise history (surpassing eight in 1995)...four pitchers have hit grand slams for the Yankees - Red Ruffing (1933), Spud Chandler (1940), Don Larsen (1956) and Mel Stottlemyre (1965)...there have been 21 pinch-hit grand slams in Yankee history (by 17 players), the last by Jorge Posada on 6/6/01 vs. Baltimore.

YANKEES IN THE BASEBALL HALL OF FAME

According to the National Baseball Hall of Fame, the New York Yankees have better representation than any other club, with 24 members (the New York Giants have placed the most players in the Hall with 21)....for the purpose of their comparison, games played was the determining factor for position players who suited up for more than one club....for pitchers, games won was the yardstick used....based on the Hall of Fame's criteria, therefore, Reggie Jackson, "Catfish" Hunter and, most recently, Wade Boggs are not counted among the Yankees' 24 representatives as Jackson played more games for Oakland, Hunter won more games with the A's and Boggs played more games with Boston....each player, however, played five distinguished seasons for the Yankees....the former Yankee players, managers and executives in the Hall of Fame are (year of election in parenthesis):

Ed Barrow (1953)
Yogi Berra (1972)
Wade Boggs (2005)
Jack Chesbro (1946)
Earle Combs (1970)
Bill Dickey (1954)
Joe DiMaggio (1955)
Whitey Ford (1972)
Lou Gehrig (1939)
Lefty Gomez (1972)

Miller Huggins (1964)
Jim "Catfish" Hunter (1987)
Reggie Jackson (1993)
Willie Keeler (1939)

Red Ruffing (1967)
Babe Ruth (1936)
Casey Stengel (1966)
George Weiss (1970)

a - Eastern Division Series, Yankees finished first in first half of season (prior to player strike) and finished sixth in second half of season.
* American League Champions.

Beginning with Lou Gehrig's number 4 in 1939, the Yankees have retired 15 uniform numbers to honor 16 players and managers.

1 BILLY MARTIN

Born: May 16, 1928 in Berkeley, CA
Died: December 25, 1989 in Binghamton, NY.
Height: 5-11, Weight: 165.
Threw and batted righthanded
Number retired in 1986

Had as much "Yankee Pride" as any player or manager to wear pinstripes and he implanted his own fierce desire to win in his teams. Played an integral part in four World Series in the 50's as a player, and added another ring managing the Yankees in 1977. His .333 lifetime series batting average is fourth with at least 75 AB on the all-time series list. Combative and daring, Martin was a brilliant baseball strategist and a legend in Yankee history.

3 BABE RUTH

Born: February 6, 1895 in Baltimore, MD
Died: August 16, 1948 in New York, NY
Height: 6-2, Weight: 215
Threw and batted lefthanded
Number retired in 1948

Baseball's greatest slugger and the most colorful figure in the game's history. Debuted as a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox, winning 89 games over six seasons before being converted to the outfield because of his tremendous power. Was sold to the Yankees for $120,000 in 1920 and his 54 home runs that year were more than any other American-League team. Enroute to 714 career home runs, won 12 home run titles, hitting 60 in 1927. Added 15 home runs in World Series competition as he led the Yankees to seven Series appearances and four World titles. A member of the inaugural class of Hall of Fame inductees in 1936.

4 LOU GEHRIG

Born: June 19, 1903 in New York, NY
Died: June 2, 1941 in Riverdale, NY
Height: 6-1, Weight: 212
Threw and batted lefthanded.
Number retired in 1939

Durable, powerhitting first baseman who played in an amazing 2,130 consecutive games between 1925 and 1939. Drove in at least 100 runs for 13 straight seasons (1926-38) and established an American-League record with 184 RBI in 1931. Compiled a .340 lifetime batting average and belted 493 home runs in a career shortened by terminal illness. Was honored at Yankee Stadium on July 4, 1939 and made memorable "Today, I consider myself the luckiest man on the face of the earth" speech. Life was immortalized in classic 1942 motion picture, The Pride of the Yankees, starring Gary Cooper. Elected to the Hall of Fame in 1939.

5 JOE DIMAGGIO

Born: November 25, 1914 in Martinez, CA
Died: March 8, 1999 in Hollywood, FL
Height: 6-2, Weight: 193
Threw and batted righthanded
Number retired in 1952

The "Yankee Clipper" is considered by many experts as the best all-around baseball player in history. Was a sensational hitter for average and power, a splendid, graceful, ball-hawking center fielder with a powerfully accurate arm and a daring and alert baserunner. Compiled a .325 lifetime batting average from 1936 to 1951. The two-time batting champion and three-time MVP powered the Yankees to the first of four consecutive World Championships in his 1936 rookie season. Many rate his 56-consecutive-game batting streak in 1941 as the top baseball feat of all time. Elected to the Hall of Fame in 1955.

7 MICKEY MANTLE

Born: October 20, 1931 in Spavinaw, OK.
Died: August 14, 1995 in Dallas, TX
Height: 6-0, Weight: 201
Threw right and switch hit
Number retired in 1969

"The Mick" was the most feared hitter on the most successful team in history. In his best seasons, and there were many, Mantle was simply a devastating player. He could run like the wind and hit tape measure homers, like his famous 565-footer in Washington in 1953. He led the Yanks to 12 fall classics in 14 years, and seven World Championships. He still owns records for most homers, RBI, runs, walks, and strikeouts in World Series play. In 1956, Mantle had one of the greatest seasons ever at the plate. He hit 52 homers with 130 RBI and a .353 average to win the Triple Crown. Mantle was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1974.

He was a durable, outstanding shortstop, skilled bunter and enthusiastic baserunner with a solid .273 lifetime batting average. In 1950 Rizzuto earned the A.L. MVP Award, batting .324 with 200 hits, 92 bases on balls, and 125 runs scored. He batted .320 in the 1951 World Series and was named Series' MVP. Spent 40 years as a Yankee broadcaster (1957-96). From 1975-77, Thurman drove in more than 100 runs and hit better than .300 in each of those three seasons. He hit the first Yankee home run in the "new" Yankee Stadium. YANKEE STADIUM

THE HISTORY OF YANKEE STADIUM

Only a year after they changed Baseball forever with the purchase of Babe Ruth from the Boston Red Sox, the Yankees made another acquisition that would forever change the way the game was watched.

On February 6, 1921, the Yankees issued a press release to announce the purchase of 10 acres of property in the west Bronx. The land, purchased from the estate of William Waldorf Astor for $675,000, sat directly across the Harlem River from the Yankees' current Manhattan home, the Polo Grounds, which they shared unhappily with the landlord Giants of the National League since 1913.

The famous façade—Yankee Stadium's most-recognizable feature—as it appeared upon completion in 1923.

The relationship between the Giants and their tenant crumbled after the 1920 season when Yankee attendance—boosted by their new slugging sensation—doubled to 1,289,422. That was over 100,000 more than the Giants, who, in 1921, notified the Yankees to vacate the Polo Grounds as soon as possible. With their departure from the Polo Grounds now inevitable, Yankee co-owners Jacob Ruppert and Tillinghast l'Hommedieu Huston set out to build a spectacular ballpark of their own, Baseball's first triple-decked structure. With an advertised capacity of 70,000, it would also be the first to be labeled a "stadium."

Original plans of the architect—the Osborne Engineering Company of Cleveland, Ohio—had the Stadium triple-decked and roofed all the way around. An early press release, in fact, described the Yankees' new home as a field enclosed with towering embattlements, rendering the events inside "impenetrable to all human eyes, save those of aviators." But the initial, grand design was quickly scaled back with the triple-decked grandstand not reaching either foul pole. Contrary to the owners' wishes, the action would be more than visible from the elevated trains that passed by the outfield as well as from the buildings that would spring up across River Avenue. Fortunately, a purely decorative element also survived the project's early downsizing and would become the park's most recognizable feature. A 15-foot deep copper facade would adorn the front of the roof which covered much of the Stadium's third deck. It would give Yankee Stadium an air of dignity that no park has possessed—either before or since.

The new stadium would favor left-handed power with the right-field foul pole only 295 feet from home plate (though it would shoot out to 429 by right center). Though the left-field pole measured only 281 feet from the plate, right-handed hitters were neutralized by a 395-foot left field and a whopping 460 to left center. It would also be friendly to patrons, boasting an unheard of "eight toilet rooms for men and as many for women scattered throughout the stands and bleachers." (When the Stadium was remodeled 50 years later, it included more than 50 restrooms.) The club's executive offices would be moved from midtown Manhattan and located between the main and mezzanine decks with an electric elevator connecting them with the main entrance.

The construction contract was awarded to New York's White Construction Co. on May 5, 1922 with the edict that the job must be completed "at a definite price" ($2.5-million) and by Opening Day 1923. Incredibly, it was. In only 284 working days, Yankee Stadium was ready for its inaugural game on April 18, 1923 vs. the Boston Red Sox.

Officially, 74,200 fans packed Yankee Stadium for their first glimpse of Baseball's grandest facility while thousands more milled around outside after the fire department finally ordered the gates closed. Before the game began, John Phillip Sousa and the Seventh Regiment Band led both clubs to the flagpole in deep center field where the American flag and the Yankees' 1922 pennant were raised. Appropriately, Babe Ruth christened his new home with a three-run homer to cap a four-run third inning as the Yankees coasted to a 4-1 win.

Yankee Stadium as it appeared from the air before the triple-decked right-field grandstand was completed in 1937.

Because it was widely recognized that Ruth's tremendous drawing power made the new stadium possible, it would immediately become known as "The House That Ruth Built." Later that season, the Stadium hosted the first of 35 World Series and the Yankees won their first World Championship over their former landlord, the Giants. Of course, as the Stadium became the stage for a staggering number of World titles—now totaling 26—it also would become known as "The Home of Champions."

In its early years, when wooden bleachers surrounded the outfield, a grass slope approached the outfield walls from foul pole to foul pole. Outfielders, especially Ruth in right, routinely backed up the small hill to pull down fly balls. Atop the bleachers were advertising signs except for a lone, manually operated, wooden scoreboard in right-center field which was "big enough to record 12 innings for games played by every club in the two major leagues." Over the years, the board would be replaced by more modern models. The Yankees, in fact, would unveil the first electronic message board in 1959.

By 1928, the Stadium was ready for its first major facelift as the triple-deck grandstand in left field was extended beyond the foul pole to its current termination point. The right-field grandstand was extended in 1937, allowing "upper-deck" home runs in both directions. With the '37 expansion of the grandstand, the remaining wooden bleachers were replaced by a concrete structure and the distance to center field dropped from 490 feet to a still-astronomical 461 feet.

Except for the addition of lights in 1946, the look of Yankee Stadium would now remain relatively the same until the winter of 1966-67. Then, under the direction of its new owner, CBS, the 44-year-old facility received a $1.5-million modernization, most of which was spent on paint (90 tons of it). The brown concrete exterior was painted white as was the by-now greenish copper facade. Also, all of the grandstand seats went from green to blue, a color scheme that would be retained when the Stadium was completely remodeled after the 1973 season.

Billed as the world's largest scoreboard in 1959, it came down during renovation after the '73 season. It would be replaced by a 560-foot long board.

On August 8, 1972, after years of debate about the future of the aging ballpark, the Yankees signed a 30-year lease with the City of New York which called for Yankee Stadium to be completely modernized in time for the 1976 season. After completing the Stadium's 50th-Anniversary season in 1973, the Yankees moved to Shea Stadium for two seasons while their home was almost completely demolished and then rebuilt.

The most striking change of the modernization would be the removal of the numerous, obstructive steel columns which supported the second and third decks as well as the roof. By "cantilevering" the upper decks and by lowering the playing field while increasing the slope of the lower stands, sight lines for fans would be dramatically improved. Of course, with the removal of the original roof, the Stadium almost lost its most-recognizable feature: the facade. However, an innovative design concept included an exact replica of the facade atop the new 560-foot-long scoreboard which stretched across the rear of the bleachers. The board would also include baseball's first "telescreen," which could provide instant replays of the action by employing a then-incredible "nine shades of gray."

Yankee Stadium reopened on April 15, 1976 after a two-year renovation.

Yankee Stadium's exterior changed dramatically, too, as three escalator towers were added, one at each of the Stadium's three entrances. And, with 10 additional rows of seats added to the upper deck, the already-grand Stadium would have an even more majestic look.

The remodeled Yankee Stadium opened on April 15, 1976—with the Yankees topping Minnesota 11-4—and, like its predecessor, would host the World Series in its inaugural season. The Stadium, in fact, hosted the Fall Classic in its first three seasons with the Yankees winning back-to-back World titles in 1977 and 1978.

As one of the world's most-prestigious addresses, Yankee Stadium has also been the home of scores of other sports, entertainment and cultural events. While the Yankees were on the road or out of season, the Stadium opened its gates to college and pro football, soccer, political assemblies, religious conventions, concerts and even the circus.

Boxing immediately found a home at Yankee Stadium with Benny Leonard winning a 15-round decision over Lou Tendler for the lightweight title three months after the gates opened on July 24, 1923. Until Muhammed Ali stopped Ken Norton on September 28, 1976, 30 championship fights had been fought at the Stadium; perhaps none more memorable than the one for the heavyweight title between Joe Louis and Germany's Max Schmeling on June 22, 1938. After suffering a knockout loss in the initial non-title encounter at the Stadium two years earlier, Louis—now the heavyweight champ—avenged his defeat with a stunning first-round KO in the rematch.

Football also became an immediate fixture at Yankee Stadium with the 1923 Army-Navy game inaugurating a rich history of collegiate and later professional football matchups. On November 12, 1928, with Notre Dame and Army locked in a scoreless game at halftime, the legendary Knute Rockne made his famous "win one for the Gipper" pep talk and the Fighting Irish went out and beat the Cadets, 12-6.

The New York football Giants also called Yankee Stadium home from 1956 through 1973 and, on December 28, 1958, played in what is widely recognized as "the greatest game ever played." With the NFL championship at stake, a crowd of 64,185 watched the Baltimore Colts tie the game 17-17 on a Steve Myrha field goal with seven seconds left. Eight minutes into professional football's first-ever "sudden-death" overtime period, the Colts' Alan Ameche crashed through from the one yard line, ending a contest that would help establish pro football as a major sport.

The Stadium was also an important stop for religious conventions with the conventions of the Jehovah's Witnesses the major outside activity each year. Beginning in 1950, the convention attracted as many as 123,707 people in a single day—far more than any other Stadium event. On October 4, 1965—with the Yankees out of the World Series for only the third time in 17 years—the Stadium hosted an event of worldwide significance. During the first visit to North America by a Pope, Paul VI celebrated mass before a crowd in excess of 80,000. Fourteen years later, John Paul II also made Yankee Stadium a stop on his tour of the United States.

The Stadium was also home to the New York football Giants from 1956-73.

WHY THE YANKEES?

When the American League moved the Baltimore Orioles to New York for the 1903 season, the club made its home at 168th Street and Broadway, one of the highest spots in Manhattan. The team would, therefore, be known as the "Highlanders" and their field "Hilltop Park." As early as 1905, however, the name "Yankees" began popping up in newspapers whose editors undoubtedly were searching for a shorter name for their headlines. By the time the franchise moved from decaying Hilltop Park to the Polo Grounds in 1913, it officially changed its name to the by then commonly-used "New York Yankees."

THE HISTORY OF THE YANKEE UNIFORM

Jack Chesbro models the franchise's earliest "NY" design in 1903.

What would become the most recognizable insignia in sports—the interlocking "NY"—made its first appearance on the uniforms of the New York Highlanders in 1909. The design was actually created in 1877 by Louis B. Tiffany for a medal to be given by the New York City Police Department to Officer John McDowell, the first NYC policeman shot in the line of duty. Perhaps because one of the club's owners, Bill Devery, was a former NYC police chief, the design was adopted by the Highlanders. It first appeared on both the cap and on the jersey's left sleeve, replacing the separated "N" and "Y" which had appeared on the left and right breast each season since 1903 with the exception of 1905. For that season only, the "N" and "Y" were merged side by side into a monogram on the left breast—actually a forerunner of the now legendary emblem.

In 1912, their final season at Hilltop Park, the Yankees—as they were now commonly known—made a fashionable debut at their home opener on April 11. Their traditional white uniforms were now trimmed with black pinstripes, creating a look that would become the most famous uniform design in sports history. The Yankees, however, were not the first team with pinstripes and would actually abandon the look for the next two seasons. By 1915, though, the pinstripes were back for good and, with the exception of the cap, the uniform would remain relatively unchanged.

Lou Gehrig and Tony Lazzeri display the pre-1936 uniform without jersey insignia.

The Yankees utilized numerous cap designs—including pinstripes—from 1903 until 1922 when they finally settled on a solid navy cap with the interlocking "NY" insignia. Only one more element would now be needed to achieve a look that remains in place today. In 1917, the Yankees removed the "NY" monogram from the jersey and went with a plain, pinstripes-only look. The "NY" remained off the uniform—except for the cap—for the next 20 years until it was reinstated in 1936. The legendary Babe Ruth, therefore, actually played his entire Yankee career without ever wearing the club's now-legendary insignia on his jersey. With the exception of minor alterations—including bolder pinstripes in the forties—the Yankee uniform has remained unchanged for more than 60 years and has, of course, grown into another of the team's great traditions.

YANKEES WERE FIRST TO MAKE UNIFORM NUMBERS PERMANENT

In 1929, the New York Yankees became the first team to make numbers a permanent part of the uniform. Other teams quickly adopted the idea and, by 1932, uniform numbers became standard for all teams. The initial distribution of numbers to the Yankees' roster was made according to the player's position in the batting order. Therefore, in 1929, leadoff hitter Earle Combs wore #1, Mark Koenig #2, Babe Ruth #3, Lou Gehrig #4, Bob Meusel #5, Tony Lazzeri #6, Leo Durocher #7, Johnny Grabowski #8, Benny Bengough #9, Bill Dickey #10 (Grabowski, Bengough and Dickey shared the catching duties).

YANKEE STADIUM'S MONUMENT PARK

Since 1932, the New York Yankees have honored their all-time greats with the erection of monuments and plaques in the outfield section of Yankee Stadium.

Babe Ruth's monument is dedicated on April 19, 1949.

On May 30, 1932, the first monument was dedicated to the memory of Miller Huggins, who died suddenly in 1929. The diminutive manager guided the Yankees to six American-League pennants and three World Championships in his 11-plus seasons.

The first plaque was placed on the center-field wall in April 1940, a tribute to Jacob Ruppert, the former owner who built Yankee Stadium and brought the tradition of winning to the Yankees.

Two more monuments followed in 1941 for Lou Gehrig and in 1949 for slugger Babe Ruth. Later plaques were placed in center field for General Manager Edward Barrow (1954) and the Yankees' two great center fielders, Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle (1969). After his death, Mantle's plaque was removed and replaced by a fourth monument in his honor on August 25, 1996. On April 25, 1999, DiMaggio--who passed away less than two months earlier--was honored with the Stadium's fifth monument. (The two plaques which once honored DiMaggio and Mantle--before being replaced by monuments--were donated by the Yankees to the Yogi Berra Museum and Learning Center in Montclair, NJ).

Originally, the monuments and plaques were part of the playing field. The monuments and flag pole were located in straight-away center field on the warning track about 10 feet in front of the wall. Sometimes long hits and fly balls forced fielders to go through or behind the monuments to retrieve the long drives.

As much of a tradition as the monuments and plaques themselves was the policy of allowing fans to exit Yankee Stadium through the center-field gates via the warning track, pausing and reflecting on the achievements of these great men. When Yankee Stadium was closed for renovations in 1974 and 1975, the monuments and plaques were relocated to an area off the field between the Yankee and visiting bullpens. However, fans were not allowed to exit via the warning track and viewing of Monument Park was only allowed at a great distance.

In 1976, two more plaques were added to memorialize managers Joe McCarthy and Casey Stengel. In the 1980's, plaques were dedicated to Yankee greats Thurman Munson (1980), Roger Maris and Elston Howard (1984), Phil Rizzuto (1985), Billy Martin (1986), Lefty Gomez and Whitey Ford (1987), Yogi Berra and Bill Dickey (1988), and Allie Reynolds (1989). Two recent plaques were dedicated for non-uniformed Yankee legends: the "Voice of the Yankees," Mel Allen, on July 25, 1998; and the "Voice of Yankee Stadium," public-address announcer Bob Sheppard, on May 7, 2000. Reggie Jackson (2002), Ron Guidry (2003) and Red Ruffing (2004) are the most-recent Yankee greats to be honored with plaques in Monument Park. Plaques commemorating the visits of Pope Paul VI in 1965 and Pope John Paul II in 1979 were dedicated by the Knights of Columbus.

In 1985, after the left-center-field fence was moved in, the Yankees were able to open the Monument Park area for fan viewing. Long lines and increased fan interest caused the Yankees to move the fence in further in 1988 and expand the Monument Park area. The Yankees have included a special walkway honoring those Yankees who have their uniform numbers retired.

In a pregame ceremony on September 11, 2002, the Yankees dedicated a monument in remembrance of the victims and heroes of the 9/11 tragedy. It was the sixth monument dedicated in Yankee Stadium and the first to non-Yankee personnel.

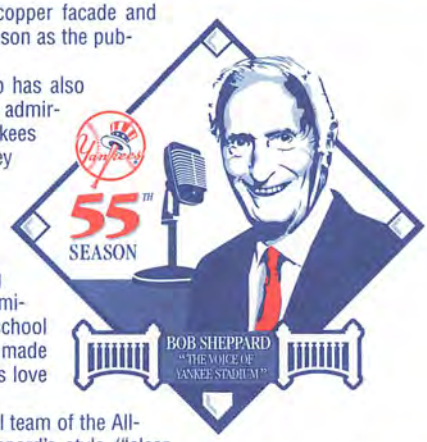
BOB SHEPPARD
"THE VOICE OF YANKEE STADIUM"



As synonymous with Yankee Stadium as the copper facade and Monument Park, Bob Sheppard enters his 55th season as the public address announcer in 2005.

The legendary "Voice of Yankee Stadium," who has also been dubbed the "Voice of God" by generations of admiring players and fans, began his tenure with the Yankees on April 17, 1951 with Joe DiMaggio and Mickey Mantle sharing the outfield on Opening Day for the only time in their careers.

Sheppard's incredible career behind the mic actually started when he volunteered his services for a charity football game in Freeport, Long Island in the late 1940's. A former collegiate and semi-pro athlete who was then working as a high-school speech teacher, Sheppard's background certainly made him a natural for the public-address role as did his love of sports.

An executive from the Brooklyn Dodgers football team of the All-America Conference was at the game, liked Sheppard's style ("clear, concise and correct") and hired him. The football Dodgers folded after only one season at Ebbets Field (1948), but one of their opponents—the New York Yankees—heard Sheppard's booming voice and offered their PA job at Yankee Stadium. Baseball's Yankees then heard him and offered him the same role for them for the 1950 season. But Sheppard's teaching schedule could not accommodate the 77-game home schedule for baseball (plus World Series games) and he turned down the offer.

"You must remember that in those days there were a lot of afternoon games," Sheppard said. "It was just not possible to do both things."

But the Yankees were persistent and again offered the PA job to Sheppard for the 1951 season with one attractive addition. The Yankees would allow Sheppard to hire a replacement for any games he would have to miss. And the rest, as they say, is history.

"A temporary job," Sheppard said, "that has lasted a half century."

And in the 53 years since Sheppard announced his first lineups, few things in sports have changed as little as Sheppard's distinctive voice and style.

"My style has not changed at all," Sheppard said. "This is how I speak. I speak the same way at home, in the classroom and at church where I'm a lector. I don't change it in the announcer's booth."

Sheppard's unique style has not been limited to Yankee games. In addition to more than 4,200 baseball games (including an incredible 101 post-season contests), Sheppard has also been the public-address voice for the football Giants since their move to Yankee Stadium in 1956.

Among the events he lists as the most-memorable of his incredible career are: Don Larsen's perfect game in Game Five of the 1956 World Series on October 8, 1956; Roger Maris' 61st home run on October 1, 1961; Reggie Jackson's three home runs in Game Six of the 1977 World Series on October 18, 1977; and the Giants-Colts overtime NFL Championship Game on December 28, 1958.

Sheppard has also served the New York Titans of the American Football League at the Polo Grounds, the New York Stars of the World Football League at Downing Stadium as well as the New York Cosmos (soccer) and St. John's University basketball and football games. Sheppard also handled the PA duties for five Army-Navy games in Philadelphia.

Two events at Yankee Stadium in which Sheppard would have enjoyed being a part were the two Papal Masses in 1965 and 1979. "I offered my services," Sheppard said, "but they were declined."

Over the years, the eloquent linguist has also written and delivered hundreds of moving tributes and eulogies to departed legends ranging from Mickey Mantle (1995) and Joe DiMaggio (1999) to those lost in the attacks of September 11, 2001 to Ray Charles and former President Ronald Reagan (2004).

"There are three things that are perfectly Yankee—the pinstripes, the logo and Bob Sheppard. When I go to heaven, I want Bob Sheppard to introduce me...the comedian...Billy Crystal...the comedian."

—Billy Crystal

In 1998, Sheppard was presented with the prestigious William J. Slocum "Long and Meritorious Service" award by the New York chapter of the BBWAA as well as the "Pride of the Yankees" award by the ball club. He was even honored with a ceremonial first pitch before Game Two of the 1998 World Series at Yankee Stadium (he recorded his own introduction). And, during his 50th season as the Yankees' PA announcer in 2000, he presented his most-recent Yankee-Stadium microphone to the Baseball Hall of Fame during induction ceremonies in Cooperstown, NY. The native New Yorker has also been elected to the St. John's University Sports Hall of Fame, the Long Island Sports Hall of Fame and the New York Sports Hall of Fame. He has been awarded honorary doctorates from St. John's University (Pedagogy) and Fordham University (Rhetoric).

BOB SHEPPARD'S FIVE FAVORITE NAMES

5. Alvaro Espinoza
4. Jose Valdivielso
3. Salome Barojas
2. Shigetoshi Hasegawa
1. Mickey Mantle

"Mickey Mantle was the perfect name. Both names starting with the same letter. I just loved announcing his name. And one day, shortly before he died, we were both being interviewed on a television program. All of a sudden, he turned to me and said—right there on the air—that every time he heard me announce his name, he got goose bumps. And I felt the same way about announcing him."

In one of the game's truly memorable moments, Sheppard introduced President George W. Bush before Game Three of the 2001 World Series (on October 30) as Mr. Bush became the first sitting President to throw out a ceremonial first pitch at Yankee Stadium.

Sheppard has also made cameo appearances in numerous motions picture and television shows, including *61, It's My Turn, It Could Happen to You, Anger Management, Seinfeld and Mad About You.

Not bad for a part-time job.

"Most men go to work, but I go to a game," Sheppard said. "How many men would love to do that?"

Sheppard resides on Long Island with his wife, Mary. They have four children, four grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Bob Sheppard with Alex Rodriguez, 2004

Hard to believe, but Bob Sheppard is not the only Public Address Announcer in Yankee Stadium's fabled history. But no one—not even Sheppard himself—could remember who immediately preceded the current Stadium P.A. Announcer behind the microphone. Afterall, the last game by this mystery man would have been 55 years ago, probably the fourth and final game of the 1950 World Series between the Yankees and Philadelphia's "Whiz Kids" Phillies.

But, after years of search and research, the answer may have turned up last year in the transcript of an interview conducted in 1991 by writer Paul Doherty with Don Carney, the producer-director of Yankees telecasts for more than three decades.

Extolling Sheppard's longevity, Carney told Doherty that "Bob's been around forever. He followed Red Patterson, who was the club's Public Relations Director and also did the P.A."

Red Patterson: The man who preceded Sheppard.

Carney's words give not only the answer but may also explain the mystery. Sheppard's predecessor was widely but anonymously quoted in the newspapers for an infamous gaffe he made during a Yankees-Philadelphia Athletics game on May 31, 1946. "Will the spectators in the front row please remove their clothing..." he began, with the rest of his announcement: "from the front railing," drowned out by the crowd's laughter.

The story got into the papers, but the identity of the speaker did not. Of course, it didn't. The writers didn't want to embarrass their main conduit for information about the club!

Additional research shows that Yankee Stadium was the last ballpark in the Majors to install a public-address system. It debuted in Game Three of the 1936 World Series and was manned by Jack Lenz and George Levy, two veterans of the time when information was still relayed to the crowd by megaphone.

The careers of Lenz and Levy began in 1915 when the Yankees and Giants shared the Polo Grounds. When the Yankees hopped across the Harlem River in 1923, Levy stayed with the Giants while Lenz took the Yankee post. "I grabbed the offer," Lenz said. "Who wouldn't, with the old Bambino holding forth at the Stadium?"

To do his job, Lenz sat in a box alongside the Yankees' dugout (then on the third-base side of Yankee Stadium) and shouted the batting orders and batteries (each team's pitcher and catcher) as well as the changes throughout the game. Unlike today, players were not announced each time they came to bat and Lenz was called upon only when a change was made.

Jack Lenz: "The little man with the big voice."

According to a feature article which appeared in the New York Evening News in the early thirties to celebrate a career of more than 2,000 consecutive games, Lenz—the "mild-mannered megaphone man"—would receive the lineups and batting orders from both managers approximately 15 minutes before the start of the game (3:15 p.m. in those days). After telephoning the press box with the "necessary dope," Lenz would pick up his megaphone and shout the batting orders and batteries. He directed his voice first toward the bleachers, then to the upper tiers of the grandstand and again to the lower stands.

Due to the vast size of their new ballpark, the Yankees actually began the 1927 season with two public address announcers to service Yankee Stadium. After the idea proved successful before a crowd of more than 65,000 on Opening Day, the "two-ply announcer system" of Lenz and Levy was used again for the second game when the crowd was only about 7,000. The experiment was likely short lived.

MICHAEL KAY

As the Play-by-Play Announcer for the YES Network and WWOR UPN9, Michael Kay immerses himself in all things New York in order to provide his listeners and viewers with original opinions and the most exclusive, up-to-the-minute Yankees information. Additionally, Kay is the Host of YES' CenterStage, an interview show with superstars of sports and entertainment, and hosts his own radio talk show on ESPN 1050 AM in New York.

Before joining the YES Network, Kay worked at the MSG Network since 1989 as a Yankees reporter. In 1992, he added the assignment of Knicks locker room reporter to his responsibilities, and continued in that role until the 1998-99 season.

In addition to his television work, the Bronx, NY native also worked as Yankees analyst on WABC Radio since 1992. Kay was a winner with Bob Goldscholl (WBBR) for "Best Sports Reporter" at the 2000 New York Metro Achievement in Radio Awards. After the Yankees World Series victories in 1996, 1998, and 2000, Kay and radio partner John Sterling were asked by New York City Mayor Rudolph Giuliani to host the post parade victory celebration at City Hall.

In 1998, Kay also began co-hosting "Sports Talk with John Sterling and Michael Kay", a MSG produced nightly sports radio call-in show which aired on WABC Radio during the winter months. During the baseball season, Kay and Sterling hosted "Yankee Talk" which aired 90 minutes prior to all weekend Yankees games.

Shortly after graduating from Fordham University in 1982 with a B.A. in Communications, Kay became one of the hot sports reporters in New York City with a style that combined great reporting skills with quality writing. While at Fordham, he honed his skills working for the school newspaper and radio station, working at SportsPhone and as the public address announcer for the New York Pro Summer Basketball League.

In 1982, Kay landed the job as general assignment writer for the New York Post. Two years later he began covering College Basketball (1984-85) and then the New Jersey Nets, who he covered for two seasons before becoming the newspaper's general basketball writer. In 1987, he was moved to baseball, serving as the Yankees "beat reporter". While he was in that position, he got his first television job with MSG Network as host of the "Hot Stove League" segment of MSG's "SportsNight".

Kay moved from the Post to the New York Daily News in 1989, still covering the Yankees, and served in that capacity until 1992. In October 1991, he broke the story of Buck Showalter's hiring for the News. Four years later for MSG, Kay tracked Yankees managerial contract developments from the time Showalter started talking about returning to his eventual signing with the Arizona Diamondbacks.

Kay hosted a sports talk show for WABC Radio from 1992-93. He rejoined the Daily News to pen "The Kay Korner" in 1993.

Kay was given the Dick Young award for Excellence in Sports Media by the New York Pro Baseball Scouts in 1995. He was also a part of the Yankees/MSG Production team that was nominated for New York Emmy Awards for six consecutive years. In 1998, he was on the MSG team that won for "Outstanding Live Sports Coverage—Series". In 1996 and 1997 he was a member of the MSG team that won New York Emmys for "Outstanding Live Sports Coverage—Single Program" for Dwight Gooden's no-hitter and "The Battle for New York: Yankees vs. Mets". Kay is single and resides in Hartsdale, N.Y.

BOBBY MURCER

Bobby Murcer is the Pre- and Post-Game Analyst for Yankees games on the YES Network and will also serve as a Game Analyst for select telecasts. Murcer symbolizes the traditions and history of the New York Yankees. For five decades, Murcer has continued to exude class, charisma and professionalism both on and off the field.

Over his 17-year baseball career, Murcer played in 1,908 games, hitting .277 with 252 HR and 1,043 RBI. He joined Lou Gehrig, Johnny Blanchard and Mickey Mantle as the only Yankees to hit home runs in four consecutive at bats. He appeared in the 1980 and 1981 American League Championship series and the 1981 World Series. A five-time All-Star from 1971–75, Murcer is the only player to have played alongside both Mickey Mantle and Don Mattingly.

In 1983, Bobby traded his glove and bat for a microphone and began broadcasting Yankees baseball, serving as color analyst for WABC-Radio until 1985. After serving a season as Assistant GM for the Yankees, he returned to the booth as the color analyst for Yankees games on SportsChannel New York. In 1989, the first year Yankees games appeared on MSG, Murcer served as color commentator along side Tommy Hutton. In 1990, he joined the WPIX broadcast team and served in that capacity though the end of the 1998 season.

Murcer resides in Oklahoma City with his wife Kay. They have two children, Tori and Todd.

PAUL O'NEILL

Paul O'Neill returns for a fourth consecutive season in broadcast television in 2005, serving as a Pre- and Post-Game Analyst for the YES Network. The gritty and revered five-time All-Star outfielder played 17-years in the Major Leagues, spending his final nine seasons in pinstripes. O'Neill was a pillar in the Yankees' run to four world championships, his passionate play embodying a team-first formula that lead to unequaled success.

Affectionately known as a warrior to most Yankee followers, O'Neill began his Major League career in 1985 with the Cincinnati Reds, earning the first of his five World Series championships in 1990. He joined the Yankees in 1993 after eight seasons with the Reds, and in 1994 claimed the American League batting title with a .359 average.

In 2001—at the age of 38—O'Neill became the oldest player in Major League history to steal 20 bases and hit 20 home runs in the same season. He lives in his native Cincinnati with his wife Nevalee and their three children: Andrew, Aaron and Alexandra.

KEN SINGLETON

YES Network's game analyst Ken Singleton had a 15-year Major League Baseball career as an outfielder and designated hitter. Known on the diamond as a consistent power hitter, Singleton has proven to be equally as reliable since joining the radio and television broadcast booths.

Previously, Singleton divided his time calling play-by-play and providing commentary at the MSG Network. In 1998, he was part of MSG's production team that won four New York Emmys for its Yankees coverage.

Singleton joined MSG Network in 1997 from the Sports Network (TSN), where he served as analyst for the Montreal Expos from 1985 to 1996. From 1991-96, he also called play-by-play and served as analyst for CIQC Radio, the Expos' flagship radio network. In 1996 and 1997, he was named by FOX Sports as a lead analyst for Saturday afternoon baseball broadcasts. In 1997 and 1998, he worked as an analyst for Major League Baseball International.

Singleton, a native New Yorker, played both baseball and basketball in high school, and also played baseball in the Bronx Federation League at McCombs Dam Park right across from Yankee Stadium. After getting a scholarship to play basketball at Hofstra University, and playing both sports for one year, Singleton was drafted by the Mets.

In April 1972, he was traded to the Expos with Mike Jorgenson, and Tim Foli for Rusty Staub. It was in Montreal that Singleton had his first of many productive seasons, hitting 23 home runs with 103 RBI (5th in the NL), 100 runs, 123 walks (one behind the league leader), and a .302 batting average. In 1974 he was traded to the Orioles with Mike Torrez for Dave McNally and two others.

Singleton is one of only six players in Major League Baseball history to hit 35 or more switch-hit homers in a season. He also ranks among the all-time leaders in most Baltimore offensive categories, including homers, RBI, and total bases. During his career, Singleton was named to the American League All- Star Team in 1977, '79, and '81. He was named Most Valuable Oriole in 1975, '77, and '79.

He retired after the 1984 season as a three-time All-Star with a 1983 World Championship ring.

Singleton, who enjoys golf and reading historical novels, lives with his wife Suzanne in Sparks, Md. He has three sons and a daughter.

JOHN STERLING

"Yankees win! Theeeeeee Yankees win!"

If anything has become synonymous with the Yankees' run of success over recent years, it is John Sterling's memorable conclusion to so many Yankee victories. And as the radio voice to 162 games a year, plus pre-season and post-season, he has called more than 2400 games over the last 16 seasons, without missing a one, making him one of the most recognized—and imitated voices—in all of New York sports.

Sterling joined the Yankees broadcast team in 1989 from Atlanta's TBS and WSB Radio, where he called Hawks basketball (1981-89) and Braves games (1982-87). But it was really a return to the town where he first achieved fame, hosting a talk show on WMCA from 1971-78, and calling the Nets (1975-80, and as a fill-in, in 1997) and Islanders (1975-78) for WMCA, WVNJ, WOR-TV and SportsChannel.

Sterling has also broadcast Morgan State Football (8 years), and did Washington Bullets basketball in 1981. In addition to his seven years at WMCA and a year at WSB in Atlanta, he has also hosted talk shows on WFAN, and WABC in New York. He has not missed a broadcast since the fall of '81.

As the host of the YES Network's acclaimed "Yankeeography" series, Sterling won two Emmy awards in 2003. He has also been honored by the New Jersey Sportswriters Association with its Radio-TV Excellence award (1999), and was the winner of the 2001 Whitney Radio Jimmy Cannon Award. In addition, his call of a Jason Giambi home run on WCBS radio in 2002 was voted the "best baseball call" of the year in a poll conducted by MLB.com. In 2002, Sterling was also honored by the NY Air Awards for being part of the best play-by-play team on radio.

When he's not in the booth, Sterling also serves as a master of ceremonies on the field for major Yankee events. He is also well known for his MC work at City Hall, with his longtime radio partner Michael Kay, at "Key to the City" ceremonies following Yankee World Series victories.

Sterling enjoys attending Broadway shows and boasts an extensive knowledge of the lyrics to many American pop standards. For the past eight years, he has been a spokesman for the Leukemia Society of America. He enjoys reading, movies and swimming. He lives in Bergen County, N.J., and is the proud father of four children: daughter Abigail and triplets, Veronica, Bradford and Derek.

SUZYN WALDMAN

An award winning journalist, Suzyn Waldman joins John Sterling in the radio booth as the Yankees' color commentator on WCBS-AM radio in 2005, becoming the first woman to hold a full-time position as a Major League broadcaster. Waldman has spent the greater part of two decades overcoming all the obstacles that go along with being a female sports broadcaster, and has risen to the top of her profession.

In 1987, Waldman became the first female voice heard on WFAN, the first All-Sports Radio station in the country, and was a mainstay on that station for almost 15 years, creating the job of the radio beat reporter, covering both the New York Yankees and New York Knicks. Her news-breaking reports, exclusive interviews and always original and controversial opinions won her countless journalism awards. Among her accolades include: the International Radio Award for her live and emotional reporting from the upper deck of Candlestick Park during the 1989 San Francisco earthquake, the 1996 NY Sportscaster of the Year by The National Sportscasters & Sportswriters and the American Women in Radio and TV's Star Award for Radio in 1999. Waldman became a popular talk show host at WFAN and co-hosted the coveted mid-day slot until leaving WFAN to join the YES Network.

The word "first" invariably precedes the name of Suzyn Waldman in every facet of her television and radio career. The first woman to work on a nationally televised baseball broadcast, Waldman added another first, being the first woman to provide play-by-play for a Major League team, when she started broadcasting New York Yankees games for WPIX, MSG Network and WNYW/FOX5 in the mid '90s. The first and only woman ever to host an NBA pre- and post-game show, working in that capacity for the NY Knicks on WFAN, Waldman provided play-by-play for the WNBA on Lifetime TV and was an analyst on St. John's Basketball games for MSG and WFAN.

She has been honored by countless organizations, including the Thurman Munson Foundation, the March of Dimes, the B'nai B'rith, the Jimmy Fund of Boston, the NY Baseball Scouts and the US Federal Women's Program for her contributions as a role model and a pioneer in women's sportscasting. She is a tireless motivational speaker at schools and cancer centers around the country, encouraging young women to pursue their dreams despite any pitfalls they may encounter.

Waldman's life and struggles have been the subject of hundreds of magazine and newspaper articles, and chapters in books, including the "MacMillan Book of Baseball Stories," "You Go Girl" and "That's Outside My Boat" both by Charlie Jones and Kim Doran. She has been profiled on the Today Show, CBS Evening News with Dan Rather, ABC's 20/20 and NBC's Dateline.

A native Bostonian, with a degree in Economics from Boston's prestigious Simmons College, Suzyn spent 15 years on the Broadway Musical Stage, and is proudest of her two years starring opposite Richard Kiley in "Man of La Mancha." She now lives in Westchester with her German Shephards, Kiley and A.J.

Brian Fergenson enters his 25th consecutive season as the producer/engineer for Yankees radio broadcasts.
